Jönköping Region

Region Jönköping County in southern central Sweden has a population of 360.000. About one quarter of the county population lives in the combined Jönköping-Huskvarna urban area around the southern point of lake Vättern. The region is strategically located in southern Sweden and is easy accessible by plane, bus, train or car.

The 13 municipalities of the Region work collaboratively to create solid ground for personal and business growth. The vision is that everyone should be able to enjoy a good life in the attractive region. The engine driving the development is a strong private business sector. The region has a long history of small enterprises and the business community is characterized by its spirit of cooperation, innovation, endurance and often a large dose of courage. Region Jönköping has one of the lowest unemployment figures and one of the lowest rates of illness-related absenteeism in Sweden.

Region Jönköping County has three emergency hospitals which are located in Eksjö, Jönköping and Värnamo and 33 Primary Health Care Centers located all over the region.
